Do you want to be a Market Innovation Manager, and practice as Key Account Manager?

Read on... We are looking for you!

What is your mission?

Help us revolutionize the biomechanical world, getting more and more companies and universities to use cutting Edge technology in their business and R&D lines. We are looking for an opportunity maker to scale, promote and exploit our technological assets, nationally and internationally.

What Will your functions be?

✓ Market transfer strategy (marketing and sales) of the technological assets for which you are responsible.
✓ Transfer of technological assets assigned, with support from the Innovation managers and all the IBV team.
✓ Promote the development of new technological assets.

What are we looking for?

✓ Solid technological background (university education in engineering, physics or equivalent creditable experience).
✓ Proficiency level in English (C1), and must be comfortable in Spanish.
✓ 5+ years of experience in technology transfer, and R&D.
✓ Passionate for bringing technology and outcomes of R&D to the companies.
✓ Strong communication skills.

Benefit

✓ Revolutionize the world of people and their relationship with the environment and products through different challenges at the Forefront of technological scientific knowledge.
✓ Good working environment and flexible hours.
✓ Full-time and permanent contract.
✓ Immediate onboarding to an agile and collaborative organization, with a people-based culture.
✓ The candidate doesn’t have to be based in Spain; we can evaluate other locations.

I’m interested in the offer. What should I do?

Send your curriculum vitae to personas@ibv.org together with a one-minute video in English, in which you tell us why we should choose your candidacy. Deadline until February 28.